FRONT AND CENTER

Clogging for Joy

The holidays give weary travelers, like me, a chance to spend more time at home and more time in the office catching up on all of those neglected little tasks that weekends on the road seem to put on the back shelf. So, while trying to make sense of a file cabinet that seems more like a catchall, I turned on the television for background and heard Oprah interviewing Academy Award nominated actor Jim Carrey. When asked how he expressed the joy of being a back-to-back winner of the Golden Globe Award for best actor, Carrey replied, "I clog dance," and jumped from his chair to do a little jig. The audience responded with a hearty laugh. If you remember the movie Leap of Faith -- in which Steve Martin plays a bogus faith healer who is confronted with the reality that someone in his meeting receives an actual healing -- the actor displays the gift of the spirit to his unwitting congregation by launching into an Irish jig.

Why is it that we are so amused by the notion that joy would cause us to dance. Ask a group of men to get up and dance and they would tell you to take a hike, but after some liquid courage you would most likely find the gang circled up on the floor dancing like children. And why not? I defy you to play a dance tune in a room full of toddlers and expect them to sit still. Are we so afraid of our inner child that any dance that frees our spirit is something to be laughed at?

Maybe that is why clogging doesn't always find its place at the table of artistic dance. Attend a conference of percussive dancers and listen to the collective exhale when someone says "I am a clogger." I even once had a dance caller chastise me for teaching a dance form that he says "insists on dragging us back to the barn." Clogging is a dance of the common man -- one that broke free of art to bring people together in a new world. Just like the bounty of new and exciting foods and spices our ancestors found in this new land, when settlers brought their dance heritage to this country they found it flavored by the richness and bounty of their neighbors and their heritage. The one common denominator that our dance brings is the ability to bring forth that inner joy and the inner child that is in each of us.

Maybe we as cloggers have found a connection to our spirit that even academy award nominees with their glittering parties have failed to discover.

There is a quote by an unknown author that says, "Life may not be the party we hoped for but while we're here, we should dance." Why? Because as the great choreographer Martha Graham so eloquently stated, "Dance is the hidden language of the soul."

Happy Holidays and Happy Clogging,

Your letters, faxes and e-mails

One Nation, Under God

I have always enjoyed your editorials in the past, but certainly enjoyed and agreed with the one that you wrote in the October Issue of the Double Toe Times (Live in the Sunshine, October 2001). Thank you so much for not being timid in a quote from the bible or openly stating where our help comes from. Without God's hand over us, we would not be a free country that is free to worship Him openly. The September 11 disaster just may have been our "wake up call." It has certainly sent us, as a country, to our knees in prayer.

I thank God for our President and all others who boldly state their faith and I pray to keep them strong and believing. I also really enjoyed and appreciated the letters from Australia and Germany. How thoughtful and caring they were!

Thank you so much for a great and informative magazine.

*Cecile Peterson
Cripple Creek Cloggers
Sauk City, WI*

Dear Cecile:

I am glad that you are enjoying the editorials and stories featured each month in the Double Toe Times. Our stories come from cloggers around the world, but the editorial is my one chance each issue to share a little of what is on my mind.

After September 11, I, too, was struggling with what was appropriate to say in the face of a terrible disaster. The well wishes of our clogging family both here and abroad is a great comfort, and a sense of personal faith is a rock to anchor us as we fight to make our world safer.

I am glad to see that you, along with thousands of other teachers around the world, are continuing to clog and teach and bring joy into peoples lives through this dance we all love.

Name That Tune

We were very happily surprised to see our wedding picture in your magazine (Danish Instructors Wed - Cloggers in the Spotlight, November, 2001). Thank you for this nice little surprise.

Rene also was very honored to see the text about his leg injury in a sports match that has effected his teaching clogging. He is still not walking without crutches yet but will probably be back on taps after Christmas.

Merry Christmas wishes and greetings to you!

*Soren and Heidi Moller
Denmark*

Dear Soren and Heidi:

We were happy to share the news of your wedding here in the Double Toe Times. As you can see, cloggers are one big family and we all like to share in the joys of those we meet through clogging.

We wish a speedy recovery to

Rene, so that he can be back on taps again very soon and wish all of your dancers a very merry Holiday season!

On behalf of the staff of the Double Toe Times magazine of clogging and percussive dance, we would like to wish you and yours a very blessed and happy Holiday!

American and Czech Cloggers Face Off in Contest in Czech Republic

by Jiri Vasak, Caramella
Czech Republic

What happens when a troupe of American clog dancers joins up with a team of cloggers from the Czech Republic for a fun festival of dancing and music? Country Duel 2001 is the answer.

American cloggers ClogAmerica from Utah were our guests during this fun time in May and the audiences were happy to see so much great clogging and comradeship among the dancers. Plans are underway for the next duel with even more groups and more dancing!

Michigan Clogging Instructors Council (MCIC) Hosts 10th Annual Workshop

by Barbara Barrett

October 6, 2001 marked the 10th annual workshop for the MCIC. We invited Naomi Fleetwood-Pyle to be our featured instructor. Naomi was accompanied by Michigan instructors from the Council; Barbara Barrett, Kevin Butler, Dee Gallina, Sam Gill, Jackie Hill & Bob Travis, and Loretta Ward. Council members are very excited about the success of this year's workshop. Pre-registration was way-way up, attendance was way up; the excitement was up even higher. All of the instructors were so well received by the cloggers and the demos were, I think, the best ever. The success of this workshop has lifted the spirits of all who attended. Clogging is alive and doing well in Michigan. Yea!

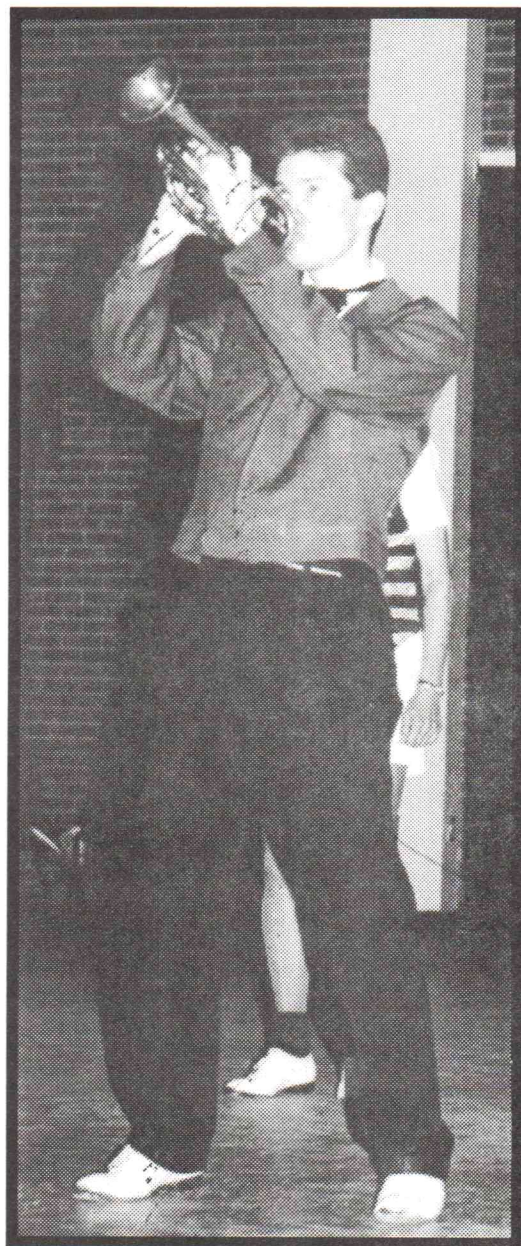

Bob Travis & Jackie Hill were the Workshop Chairpersons. We thank them for all of their hard work and for obtaining the Saginaw Civic Center. . . it was not an easy job. We even had a "garden room" where we could purchase breakfast or lunch at any time during the day. Sallie Adkins Heritage Clogging Supplies was there, as was Naomi's store. We had a flea market table of used clogging items for sale. If you did not attend this workshop, you missed a great day.

MCIC 10th Annual Workshop

The demos were all so very exciting with such high energy. They seem to get better every year. This group put on a very captivating show. Included in the show were:

Bob Travis & Jackie Hill, directors of the Lady J Cloggers of Romeo, did a duet to "Grease Mix"

Gone Country Cloggers from Waterford danced to "Doo Dah" & "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy"

Rhinestone Cloggers of Genesee County danced to "Strings of Fire"

The LA Cloggers of Lansing danced to "McMecheus Reel"

The Katy Did Cloggers of Hartland danced to "Hey Joe"

The Valley Rhythm Cloggers of Bay City danced to "Siamsa"

Theresa MacArthur of Wixom did a solo to "Start the Commotion"

Shane Gruber of W. Bloomfield & Denielle Kapanowski of Howel did a duet to

"Boogie Woogie Fiddle Country Blues"

Carol & Trevor from Burton, MI danced to "I'll Fly Away"

Heel Struttin' Cloggers from Waterousville danced to "Bit by Bit"

You can see from all of the locations of the demo teams listed, we had groups from all over the state. The whole spirit of the day was very much alive and the air was filled with excitement.

We were all so happy to see Ashlyn Schaffer with us for the day. What an amazing young lady. Her smiling face and fantastic attitude was contagious. It put a spark of "Yes, I can do it" in all of us.

We started out the day with each instructor doing a short demo of his or her dance. We have had such good response from doing this in past years; this will be repeated each year. The end of the workshop brought a rip-roaring open dance session including all of the old favorites that we never seem to tire doing.

After everyone was tired. Naomi needed a walker to exit the hall! Some MCIC members took her to show off Michigan's famous traditional German town, Frankenmuth, for a world-renowned chicken dinner with all the trimmings. Everyone thought it was a perfect way to end a perfect day -- good friends, good food and memories to last a lifetime.

Footworks Steps Out in Michigan

This Summer, Heidi Kulas, of the percussive dance ensemble Footworks presented a workshop for the Thunder Floor Cloggers of Lake Odessa, Michigan. The day of dance included instruction in flatfoot, hand rhythms, gum boot dancing, Canadian step dancing and a routine to Trisha Yearwood's "That's What I Like About You." The evening ended with a big potluck dinner and lots of dance stories!

Happy Feet Wins Trophies at Mid-Atlantic Clogging Competition

On Saturday, September 15, clogging teams from North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey competed in the Mid-Atlantic Clogging Championship at the Charles County Fairgrounds in LaPlata, Maryland. The competition was sanctioned by the National Clogging Hoedown Council and the American Clogging Hall of Fame. Happy Feet, a Fairfax City, Virginia, team that has been in existence for only one year, brought home a trophy in each of the six categories they entered.

The team took first place in the competition's top "Show" category with their rendition of the Village People's "In the Navy." They also won first place in the "a cappella" category; the dancers were judged strictly on the sounds and rhythms produced by their taps. Dressed in costumes reminiscent of the 70's, Happy Feet finished second with "Shake your Groove Thing" in the "Exhibition" category. In the "Female Solo" category, Caralyn Chism won first place, Megan Grady took third place, and Martha Hemingway won third place in their respective age divisions.

Happy Feet, directed by Martha Hemingway, is funded in part by the City of Fairfax Commission on the Arts.
