FRONT AND CENTER

The Cruellest Month

I just got back from an Easter trip to Minnesota and suffered through ice storms and slick roads, only to return home to West Virginia and delight in 70 degree days and clear evenings. One day you find yourself in the garden on a warm, sunny day — the next you are scrambling for tarps to make sure those precious plants don't succumb to an unexpected frost.

Poet T.S. Elliott said "April is the cruellest month." Maybe he was referring to the uncertainty each day holds, with the dangling carrot of Summer vacation just ahead and the hope that Winter is held at bay. Maybe he meant taxes! In any case, April marks that delicate transition from one season to another with a sense of anticipation and renewal that no other month can muster.

This issue of The Double Toe Times offers you information on a variety of workshops, contests and chances to perform that can help you make the "cruellest" month the "coolest" month.

Our 2003 Summer Camp Guide details over a dozen different venues that will let you get out and get cloggin'. Some are just for cloggers, some just for kids, and some clogging along with other dance forms and musical events.

Our updated events listing is the most comprehensive anywhere... with separate listings for workshops, competitions, performance opportunities, dances and camps.

If all of that is not enough to help you get over the Winter blahs and get into the swing of Spring, then grab a pad and pen and sit down and write to us to share some of your clogging experiences. The one request I consistently get from readers is to have more stories by their peers. This is the time to sit out on the porch in shirt sleeves and jot down those show ideas, routine concepts and let your creative side blossom.

Happy Clogging, Jeff Driggs, Editor

Your letters, faxes and e-mails

You Might Be From a Small Town if...

I want to tell you that I enjoy The Double Toe Times. I have been receiving it for several years. you are doing a great job with it. My husband and I are retired and moved from Ohio to Tennessee three years ago. We live near Norris Lake in the mountain area in a small town called "Jacksboro." My husband went to the Post Office to mail a letter and the girl that works there said, "You are a clogger, aren't you?" My husband said, "Yes, how did you know?" She said, "I notice you clogging magazine while I am sorting the mail." We knew that we had moved to a small town when everyone knows what is going on. It was fun.

Thanks again.

Wilma Jean Lovely
Jacksboro, TN

Editor's Note:

I certainly understand where you are coming from. The Double Toe Times sends out thousands of peices of mail each month with magazines, billings and information, so we are pretty well known at our little post office here as well. I was headed out one Monday morning and put on some old cologne that I had found in Spring cleaning and went to the Post Office. The cologne was a dollar store gift I'm sure -- I don't even remember where it came from. When I got to the gal at the counter she asked, "Did you go clogging this weekend?" I told her that I had. She asked if I was sore. I said "Sore? Not really?" She replied,

"Well, your muscle linament really smells strong!" Now THAT is a small town!

PerthBound

I received my January edition of The Double Toe Times and what a coincidence to see an article on the Australian Clogging Convention. My daughter, Leah Catherine, is on her way to Perth for a semester of study abroad. She is hoping to locate a team when she arrives. She is an advanced dancer and danced with Chip Summey and Darren Hedrick before she left. Any help you can give will be appreciated.

Vicki Conrad
Clog Carolina

Editor's Note:

Ruth Swick has an amazing team of young people in Australia that do advanced footwork and some really creative choreography. She can be contacted through the Australian Clogging Association website at www.easy.com.au/aca.

Thanks

I would like to again thank you and The Double Toe Times for all that you do for us and for promoting Camp Esperanza. You are very much a part of the success of our benefit.

Robert Ball
Irving, TX

Editor's Note:

We are honored to be a part of this important effort. Our help in promoting and teaching pales in comparison to the commitment your Dixie Style Cloggers have made to the Camp over the years. (The Dixie Style Cloggers have raised over $117,000.00 for Camp Esparanza's Camp for Children with Cancer over the years.) The group recently had a tragic loss of one of their dancers, Mike Martin. Please take a look at the Clogger's Spotlight page and -- if you are able -- make a contribution to the camp in Mike's name. It would be a fitting tribute to a great person.

Flat Note

I've been a subscriber to The Double Toe Times for about 2 years and look forward to each issue. However, it seems that there's always a lot about competition and team clogging and workshops but not much about traditional old-time Appalachian solo flat-footing. Anyone who has seen the video "Talking Feet" knows what I am mean.

Appalachian flatfooting is a little different from what most of us are used to in our modern choreographed clogging, but it is our heritage and we should never let it be forgotten. And, it is so much fun!

Kriss Sands
Aliso Viejo, CA

Editor's Note:

*Thanks for your letter. We are always interested in articles and story ideas for the magazine and appreciate you letting us know what you would like to hear more about. I have asked Lou Maiuri to write an article about Appalachian flatfooting and it should appear in an upcoming issue soon. Lou is a master artist at Davis & Elkins College in West Virginia and teaches flat-footing and old-time squares and mountain calling. His flatfoot style is very rhythmic and energetic. His video and book on flatfoot have been featured here in The Double Toe Times. I hope you*

Struttin' Our Stuff

It was so great that the girls got their pictures in The Double Toe Times! (Feb. 2003 Issue: Reno Clogfest Winners) The entire club was so tickled. Thanks for letting us "strut our stuff."

Sharon Lopeman
Lynx Creek Cloggers

Well "Train"ed

Thank you very much for printing my cue sheet to Chatanooga Choo Choo. (Feb. 2003 Issue) I have received emails about it, and one dancer who loves that style of music but was not familiar with Buck or Canadian styling was so keen to learn it that I sent her a video teach. She was just thrilled.

Helen LeCounte
Port Coquitlam, B.C. Canada

Editor's Note:

Thanks so much for a great routine. I am always happy to hear that the choreo we share in the magazine is well-received and it is a testament to the good nature of those who write and share routines that you went to the extra effort to help a fellow clogger!

God Bless Our Troops!

Hey Jeff and everyone. I am at the USO and getting ready to fly out to Monterey. God bless all of you who have supported me and even those who haven't! This has been a hard time in that my Grandmother died while I was here as well as my good friend Bob Johnson. The clogging world will forever owe him a huge debt and always remember him. Courage and Fidelity!

Nathan Lee Mallory
Kai Shinagami Ryu-Sama
jadedragon1982@hotmail.com

Editor's Note:

Nathan, I am sharing this note with readers because, as a clogging family, I want to be able to express my personal pride in the great undertaking you and thousands of others are accepting in the effort to free and rebuild a democratic Iraq and hinder terrorism. As divided as some feel about our efforts on the world stage now, we are always united in our love of dance and for our fellows dancers. The clogging world salutes you and all of our troops and we wish you a safe and speedy return back to the U.S.A.!

Summer Camp Guide

Summer Dance Camps which offer full clogging camp programs:

July 10-13, 2003

Clogging Champions of America Clogging Camp

Programs: All level Clogging workshops by national instructors, counselor-driven choreography and learning, arts and crafts, swimming and more for ages 8 – 17.

Description: The Clogging Champions of America Clogging Camp is for dancers ages 8 through 17 years old. The camp participants stay on the campus of Mars Hill College in Mars Hill, North Carolina (the home of the world-famous Bailey Mountain Cloggers). Workshops are offered daily and fun dances and activities are planned each evening. The themed camp also offers outdoor activities, crafts, swimming and fun dances. The campers are divided into small camp groups with two counselors for each group. The camp groups learn a cheer and write a routine to be presented for the parents at the end of the camp in a fun show.

Augusta Heritage Festival

Davis & Elkins College, Elkins, WV
Augusta Heritage Center

Programs:

A series of week-long Summer camp workshops focus on specific themes, including Old-Time and Dance Week, Irish Week, Bluegrass and Family Week, and more.

Old-Time and Dance Week

August 3-10, 2003

Description: Dance week camp at Augusta offers great dancing, top-level instruction, music, friendship and spirited fun.

Classes for cloggers of all levels are offered, from basic elements of Appalachian flatfooting to contemporary clogging and other styles of step dance. Callers can improve their methods and add to their repertoire of Southern calls, big circle dances and contras. Workshops are held each day and a social dance each night.

Instructors: Eileen Carson and Footworks Percussive Dance Ensemble – Contemporary clogging, flatfooting, percussive dance, Lou Mauri – flatfooting, mountain calling and old time square, Kathy Anderson – squares, Becky Hill – contras, waltz, swing, Tom Hinds – squares, calling.

October Old-Time Week

October 19-26, 2003

Description: Like an annual family reunion, October Old-Time Week brings people together from far and wide for a fun and rewarding learning experience. Morning classes offer intensive training in small groups, in the afternoon master artists host daily presentations, and each evening offers dances, clogging workshops, films, jam sessions and more.

Instructors: Lou Mauri – flatfooting, mountain calling and old time square

Specialized Classes at Augusta:

Flatfooting Intensive – July 6 – 11, 2003

Description: This open-level, full-time dance class will present Appalachian flatfooting, emphasizing its percussive, rhythmic qualities. The class, aimed at experienced dancers, is structured like a graduate-level workshop/seminar.

Instructors: Ira Bernstein, of North Carolina.

Roots & Rhythm: Clogging and Movement for Teens – July 27 – August 1, 2003

Description: This class offers young people an unforgettable experience in movement and dance in a non-competitive atmosphere. Percussive dances such as Appalachian flatfooting, tap, step dance and African boot dance are taught, enriched by hamboning, improvisation and discussions.

Clogging classes are given by master dancers and the evening dances offer social opportunities to interact with many teenagers enrolled in the concurrent Bluegrass Week.

Instructors: Eileen Carson, Heidi Kulas and Matthew

Olwell or Footworks Percussive Dance Ensemble, plus apprentice Nick Gareiss.

Ashokan Fiddle and Dance Camps

Sponsored by Jay Ungur and Molly Mason near Woodstock, NY

Programs:

Southern Week: Squares, Contras, Clogging, Cajun & Zydeco dance, music and more.

Description: Our camps are designed to be richly rewarding for complete beginners as well as the experienced dancer or musician. Our programs provide a LEARNING VACATION - that means lots of fun and enjoyment as well as serious classes and workshops. You create your own mix! We provide both music and dance classes, so that dancers will have the finest music to dance to and musicians will be inspired by the great dance forms that their music is rooted in. Participants can tailor their own schedule to focus exclusively on vocal or instrumental music, dance or a mix of your own. It's not uncommon to find an experienced dancer taking a beginning music class or an experienced musician learning to dance for the first time. CLASSES & ACTIVITIES INCLUDE: Square dancing, flatfooting and clogging, Cajun & Zydeco dance, Cajun accordion, fiddle, guitar, vocals and bass & percussion, caller's workshops, traditional clogging team workshop, old-time fiddle, banjo and guitar, old-time songs, harmony singing and band workshops... plus jam sessions, song swaps, dance parties, slow jams and more.

Instructors: Kathy Anderson - squares, caller's workshop, John Krumm - squares, contras, Sharon Leahy - clogging & traditional clogging team, Michael Seider and Jodi Hebert - Cajun dance (and a little Zydeco too), Matt Gordon - flatfooting and clogging.

Oklahoma Group Shockwave Advances to Star Search Finals May 14

Shockwave Cloggers of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma have advanced to the finals of the hit CBS show STAR SEARCH to be aired on May 14.

Audience voting helped the dancers to win the semi-finals in an exciting showdown with Knucklehead Zoo, a jazz-infused street dance group from Las Vegas, Nevada.

Your votes helped get the group to the finals and you will have a chance to vote again on May 14 as Shockwave competes for the title of Young Dancers Champion! After the group's performance, you can show your support by voting for the group at www.cbs.com/star. The top prize is $100,000.00!

Take a look inside the journey of this small town clogging group as they travel to Los Angeles for the experience of a lifetime.

Star Search Bound

by Cathy Moore

Our team is called Shockwave, and we are from Broken Arrow, Oklahoma under the direction of Cathy, Jeff, and Jennifer Moore. The group consist of eight local dancers, but only five appeared on Star Search. The dancers are Sarah Bina, Hannah Gallion, Ashley George, Tristan Keim, Jeff Moore, Jennifer Moore, Hayley Spencer, Allison Stout. We received a phone call from

Shockwave on Star Search

Star Search asking if we would want to come and audition for the show. The auditions were held in Dallas TX at the Doubletree Hotel. We decided to go down and audition for the experience. They had many dancers audition that day. They had Ballet, Hip Hop, Irish, Tap, Modern, Break-Dancing, Jazz, and Clogging. After the audition was done they told everyone they could leave except for Shockwave and one male Jazz Dancer. We were given papers that said we were being considered for the show and if we were selected what expenses would be covered etc. We were just so flattered to have been chosen out of so many people. A few days later they called to let us know we were in the contestant pool and only days later told us we would be on the April 9th show. We were so excited. When we arrived in Los Angeles we worked on the interviews with the kids and also making changes to the dance. The stage is different than anything we had danced on. They wanted us to turn in different directions, face the judges, and have more formation changes. In order for things to work we had to be very opened minded but I think everything worked itself out. The kids were required to spend the first part of each day with school teachers on staff at Star Search. The kids did great and kept up with all their studies. Of course this wasn't their favorite experience but they loved the teachers. It wasn't until we danced and won on April 9th that we even started to think about the Semi-Finals. We only had one day or so to prepare for the Semi-Finals, but I think we pulled it all together. When we won the Semi-Finals we were all so excited. It was very close between us and Knucklehead Zoo. They were very good. We would like to say thank you to our clogging friends and America for their support, the internet for keeping cloggers informed, The Clogging Sensation for the use of their costumes, and Stan Webb for his help and encouragement. We will be going back to Los Angeles for the finals May 14th. We are currently working on a new costume and a new dance. This has been a great experience for all of us, please feel free to email us mooresdance@cox.net.

Before their first Star Search performance, the group did a video introduction that gave them a chance to tell a little about themselves and clogging!

Transcript of Shockwave's Video Introduction
April 9, 2003

Transcribed by Blake Burton - Houston, Texas

Arsenio: Now's it time for that age old battle between clogging and Jazz Dancers. Yeah, that's right, clogging. Don't be looking at me all crazy. Our first dance act are five OK teenagers from 13-19 who aren't at a rodeo right now; they're here to perform for you. They call themselves SHOCKWAVE.

Beginning of Video

Team: We are Shockwave.

Jeff: "I feel like dancing on Star Search is going to make people realize what clogging is. Get the idea out of their head that it's just a Western dance."

Tristan: "When people say clogging, they think wooden shoes, and that's not what it is at all."

Jeff (holding up shoe): "Now THIS is a clogging shoe."

Allison: "A clogging shoe is designed to make more noise than a tap shoe is."

Hayley: "Clogging gives us the opportunity to dance to modern music that we all normally enjoy."

Ashley: "We're really glad that we get to show America what cloggers are all about."

End of Video

Arsenio: "And now make some noise for Shockwave."

Be sure to watch May 14 and vote on www.cbs.com/star

Pop's Place

Where in the world is "Pop's Place"?

A couple years ago I told Jeff Driggs we were going to visit friends in Maryland and he said to be sure and drop in at Pop's barn for an evening of bluegrass and dancing... so we did. Recently, on February 14, enroute to Florida, we stopped again. What grand times!

Pop's name is William Hicks and he bought that farm in 1973, raising horses among other ventures. Eight years ago his granddaughter needed a place to practice clogging so he let her group dance in the barn — at first on a dirt floor, then later on he laid down plywood to convenience the cloggers, and still later on he decided to remove the then defunct horse stalls and cement the entire barn floor. It didn't take long for local musicians to migrate right into that there barn for jam sessions. People came to watch and enjoy both the dancing and bluegrass music.

Pop died on June 12, 2001 at 93 years. old. His son, William, and daughter, Dorothy, run the farm. When I met his son I felt like it was meeting Pop because he exudes the sincerity of his dad's personality and character, so say those that speak of Pop lovingly.

Let's take a look inside the barn: Although there's "no charge", at the door is a stuffed hillbilly cowpoke holding a basket labelled "Donations" which help defray maintenance costs. There's a slightly raised stage where the bands play and in front of the bandstand is an open area where the dancers jig or clog whenever the fiddle tunes spur them on. The rest of the barn is filled with chairs, tables and benches for appreciative onlookers. Down at the far end is a little kitchen where eats and drinks are served.

One table beside the bandstand has a sign saying "Reserved". Pop's 8x10 framed picture sits on that table in front of a chair with Pop's jacket lettered "Pop's Place" on the back -- and nobody sits in that chair -- almost as if Pop was due to come in and sit down. Doesn't that bespeak of a kind and reverent heritage of friends that love the one responsible for this happy on-going wing-ding?!

Pop had a huge collection of commemorative plates from all over the country and world that were stashed away in storage boxes so he built a shelf all around the barn walls where hundreds of plates and pictures are displayed.

The night we were there, there were 7 different bluegrass groups that took turns entertaining. My legs itched to clog to those master musicians with their haunting old-tune bluegrass tunes. About a dozen dancers got up to keep the beat and I was right in the middle of them. Mama, I'm home! ha ha Several folks bring omemade layer cakes and place strategically for the cake walk. Dancers participating circle up for the challege and place a dollar in the offering plate. Whoever is closest to the cake when the music stops, wins a cake. I won a 4 layer chocolate cake... yippee, yahoo and zippity doo dah... until.. I found out it was protocol to share the cake with the rest of the hall.

William said in the Summer time there are up to 350 fans that come to the Friday night shindigs, and multiple bands (besides the one on the inside stage) find nooks around the pastures to play together.

So, what do you say... when in the area make it a point to reward yourself with a visit to Pop's Place at 3514 Old Level Rd., Level, MD. Every Friday night around 6:00 pm is bluegrass; every third Saturday night is strictly Gospel. Go right to Pop's table and shake hands with Pop's best friends, Carol and Jim White who grace the table where Pop is due to come in and enjoy the Show.

Photos: Top: William Hicks (Pop's son) stands in from of the bandstand at Pop's barn in Level, Maryland where each weekend is a musical memory.

Middle: Dolly takes part in a tradition at Pop's Place -- the cake walk.. and she won!

Second from Bottom: Pop's best friends Jim and Carol White sit at Pop's table and enjoy the music and dance legacy he started.

~~Clog Shoes~~

Mike Martin

A Friend to Clogging

reprinted from www.dixiestyle.com

The clogging world lost a great friend March 8th, when Mike Martin of the Dixie Style Cloggers died suddenly during a clogging exhibition at Traders Village in Grand Prairie, Texas. Mike was dancing a favorite routine he had brought to Texas from Canada, where he and wife Patti learned to clog years ago. He had taught 'Vogue' to his Texas friends and always loved to perform it with them.

Married 45+ years, Mike and Patti moved to the U.S. in the mid 1990's, first clogging with The Hills of Kentucky before moving to Texas and settling in Corinth, just north of Lewisville. There they visited and joined the North Star Cloggers and soon became pillars of the club, serving as President and Secretary and inspiring club spirit and growth. They later also joined the Dixie Style Cloggers exhibition team, where Mike became known as their 'Showman'. At the TCC Rally, just one week to the day before his untimely death, Mike played the salesman in Dixie Style's "A Coach is Coming In", from "Paint Your Wagon". He danced at several Cloggers' Showcases on the Riverwalk, once or twice as the fiddler in Dixie Style's routine to a medley of Charlie Daniels' songs, ending with "The Devil Went Down to Georgia". Mike was a Showman. Early on he won at least two solo competitions to the delight and cheers of the crowd.

A faithful husband, devoted father and friend to all who ever met him, Mike was a steadfast member of the Episcopal Church, in Denton, and an outstanding example of a real man. Mike knew how to enjoy every moment of life to the fullest and never failed to uplift and inspire everyone around him. Mike was beloved by all who knew him. He absolutely loved to perform and speak in public, where he always excelled. He was such a big presence among us that it just doesn't seem possible that he is now gone from our midst.

Mike Martin will be sorely missed by so many. He left us while clogging on the stage, something he dearly loved to do. The medics said he may not have ever realized anything had happened, it was so sudden. Observers said it looked like he may have just missed a step. And then he took his next one in heaven. If you would like to remember Mike, you may honor him with a donation to The Kidney Texas Incorporated or The American Diabetes Foundation. You may also make a donation to Camp Esperanza in Mike's name. Mike has helped the Dixie Style Cloggers to raise over $118,000.00 for the camp over the years.

Clogging Instructors and Dancers Directory

A listing in the Double Toe Times exclusive Instructors and Dancers Directory entitles you to list your events, competitions and festivals in the Upcoming Events column free of charge. The Directory is also a valuable source for networking, marketing and promotion. A bullet (■) in front of the Instructor or dancer's name indicates that this person can, and does, promote old-time clogging and traditional dancing.
