The Best of Times

*I*t was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of light, it was the season of darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going direct to heaven, we were all going direct the other way—in short, the period was so far like the present period, that some of its noisiest authorities insisted on its being received, for good or for evil, in the superlative degree of comparison only.

—Dickens, A Tale of Two Cities

It was the best of times. Lots of students, and a lot more boys. The rent was cheaper and the line dancers didn't mind it taking 3 weeks to teach one routine. Area clubs hosted fun dances every month or so and we all got together to dance the golden oldies, eat cake and fellowship. Nobody had even heard of ASCAP/BMI.

It was the worst of times. 45 rpm records warped in the sun during Summer exhibitions. Polyester pants on guys and petty pants, panty hose and krenlins on girls can make for some serious heat rash. Nobody knew what the word "clogging" meant. Taps broke too easily and scratched the floor.

Now is your time -- the best and the worst, too good to believe and unbelievable, hopeful and desperate. How will it compare?

Happy Clogging,
Jeff Driggs, Editor

Your letters, faxes and e-mails

Well Done

Just a quick note to say "Well done" on the Double Toe Times. It's very exciting to see the cloggers recognized on national television and the coverage in the magazine.

Did you know that Miss America Erika Dunlap used to clog with Kevin Griffin and his group in Orlando? She pursued a singing career in lieu of clogging, but she started out as a clogger! She used to be in the clogging competition circuit and has always caught our eye with her beauty, even as a young girl.

I enjoy getting the magazines each month. Keep up the good work and I hope to see you again soon at one of the clogging events.

BIGGEST Clogging Fan!

I'm a BIGGEST clogging fan, I want a year subscription for myself! I'm on the internet cloggers. Your Clogging fanatic
Chip
Concord, NC

Editors Note:

Thanks for your great letter, Chip. It is wonderful to have young readers who are excited about clogging and we hope you enjoy the magazine! Next time you are on the internet, ask your parents to help you visit our website and also our new forum in connection with clogdancing.com.

Karen Blinderman

It was with sadness today (3-14-2004) that I took a phone call informing me that Karen Blinderman, clogging instructor in Greenwood, SC, had passed away. Karen was diagnosed with breast cancer, according to her former student and friend, Cathi Dempsey, and went very quickly.

Karen had directed a group of cloggers based in her Middle School, the Countryside Cloggers. She had a love of children, and was a teacher of special needs children. Karen and her girls loved traveling to workshops, particularly the Spring Fling! She would always call me to see if I was going with my group. We had even traveled to Greenwood to help them with a fund raiser one year, and they loved coming to Conyers for my Clogging Night.

I will truly miss Karen, and just wanted everyone to know that the clogging world has lost a sweet spirit.

Cover Girls

The photo inset on the front of last July's DTT with Scotty Bilz are four of my cloggers. Those four girls have had so much fun saying they made the cover of the Double Toe Times! We've made copies for everyone and even have the cover hanging in our dance studio! Thanks.

Keep it UP

Thanks for all you do for clogging. Keep up the good work!

Humming Along

First of all, I would like to personally thank the Editor for all of the pleasure he has brought to the clogging world. Not only that, but he has done it in a kindly, fun way.

I am enclosing that was printed on the front page of the Hemet News, here in California. I have had a number of congratulations on this article, including one from U.S. Senator Barbara Boxer.

Aloha Cloggers!

International Clogging Expo Performs in the Aloha Festival Parade

Hundreds of clog dancers from throughout the U.S. met in Hawaii in September to perform in the Aloha Festival Parade and enjoy sight-seeing tours of Oahu and Maui.

The International Clogging Expo, under the direction of Lee Adams, of Ohio, and hosted by Music Celebrations, Inc., provides performance opportunities at many of the nation's most prestigious venues. Over 1,000 cloggers joined in the Clogging Expo in Washington, D.C. two years ago and this Thanksgiving Day, Expo cloggers are invited to participate in the Philadelphia Thanksgiving Day Parade and also go on to New York City to perform in the National Festival of States. Lee is joined in her efforts by Sallie Adkins of Ohio and Jeff Driggs of West Virginia. Kathy Rucker, of Indiana, has hosted a large delegation of cloggers and country dancers to each Expo. The Hawaii Expo featured cloggers from Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, New York, Utah, Ohio and many more states.

Of course, no tour is complete without sight-seeing and excursions. The Hawaii Expo includes tours on Oahu and also on the Island of Maui. The Expo group came home with lots of great memories with fellow cloggers.

Photos:

Top: Cloggers from New York State enjoy the sites at the Dole Pineapple Plantation in Hawaii.

2nd from Top: The Cloggers Expo and Parade included a performance at the Polynesian Cultural Center on Oahu, which hosts a canal parade featuring depictions of the many islands of the Western Pacific.

3rd from Top: The Cloggers attended a luau and dinner show and learned to do the hula -- the traditional Hawaiian dance.

Train to become a certified judge!

Introducing The Flatfooter, a shoe designed by flatfooters for flatfooters. With excellent support, The Flatfooter shoes fit like a fine pair of gloves. The Flatfooter is made from full grain leather uppers and are quarter lined with pearl pig skin with a leather sole. The Flatfooter shoes are constructed with Micro Cellular foam in the sock lining for shock absorption and to help aid in preventing foot injury. Lined for comfort, build for sound, the dancer can easily incorporate flatfoot technique amongst buck & shuffle steps.

More stable than the common clogging shoe. The Flatfooter, with its specially designed solid leather heel has the low resonant flatfoot sound, yet the shoe can be heard by your audience. The specially designed heel and toe piece each make a different sound. Wonderful downbeat sound of the heel with the black Flatfooter.

Sporting a non-inhibiting leather strap- you and your team will see an improvement in the ease of dance when you wear these wonderful shoes. Gone are the blisters and tired feet after a days dance.

A design by Bob Warner, CCI, cumulating years of study through teaching and evaluating hundreds of dancer's styles, has brought forth a shoe for the flatfoot clogger's needs.

The black Flatfooter has no Metal on the floor- just great sound! The Flatfooter - a shoe kin to a fine musical instrument and made in the United States. Pictured is womens.

Bob the clogger's video 'Flatfoot and More' is a teach where one can hear the sound this comfortable new shoe makes. Mens, Ladies, and Childrens sizes

Also available is the Flatfooter in "Flash White" for show without the toe piece and special heel surface. Stevens steel taps can then be installed and all other clogging can be done.

Jumping For Joy

After learning clogging at age 65, Howard Hummer of California wins National honor at 82

BY MARILEE REYES

The Press-Enterprise, Hemet, CA

Howard Hummer grins as he talks about hearing himself described by a young boy as "a neat old guy ... just kicking up his heels."

Hummer said the boy, about 10 years old, had been watching him rehearse prior to a dance competition at the Orange County Fair a year ago. Hummer recalled hearing the boy tell people in an other dance group about Hummer's fast-stepping dancing called clogging.

"I got a kick out of that," Hummer said.

Though his house and garage are stacked with trophies, Hummer recently received a special honor from Showstopper, a national group that sponsors the American Dance Championship competitions. During the association's 25th annual finals in July at the Disneyland Hotel, Hummer won the overall national champion title for those over 70. He also got ' what he describes as "the biggest dang trophy I've ever seen."

Also, Hummer received a special recognition, the Showstopper's National Talent Competition American Dance Achievement Award, for his contribution to dance. "It's quite an honor," Hummer said, holding the plaque in his hands.

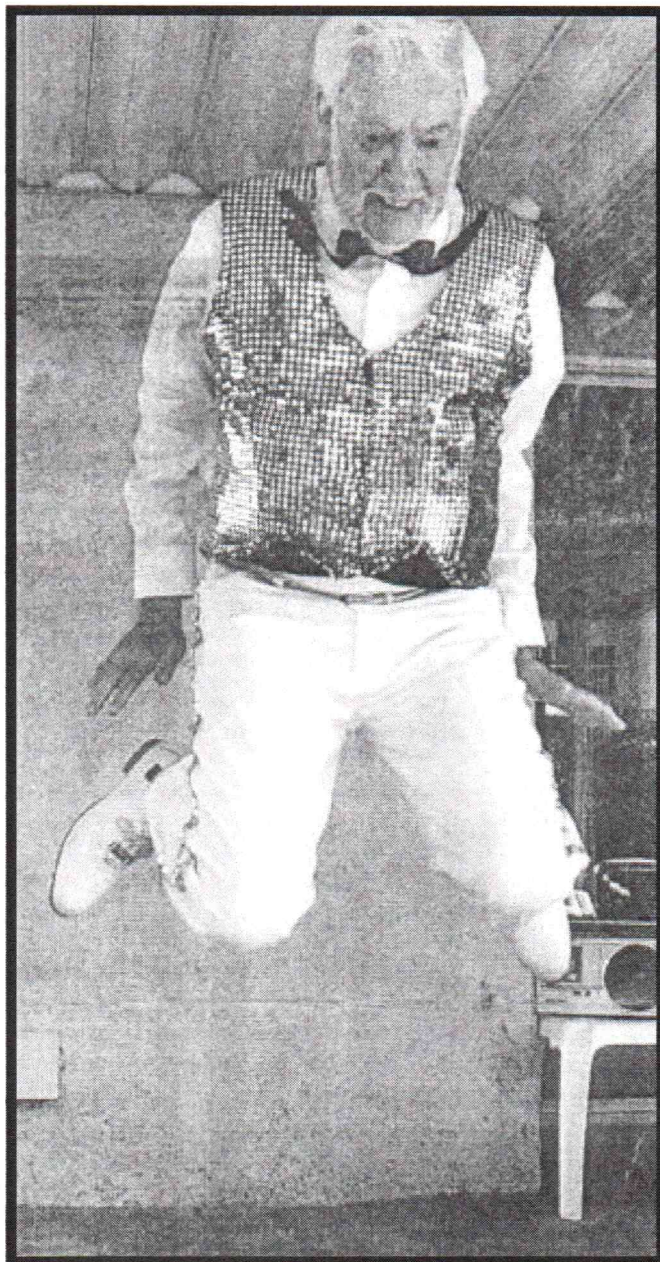

Hummer has danced at the Hollywood Palladium and Hollywood Bowl and at Disneyland in addition to many competitions. Also, he has been on CNN and ABC news clips. He has served as president of the Southern California Clogging Association.

Hummer discovered clog dancing at 65 when he visited the Los Angeles County Fair. The demonstration mesmerized him.

Now 82, and in spite of the silver hair and being a member of the senior set, he's still stomping away in competitions and shows around the county. He performs and competes as an individual and with his dance troupe, The Hemet Social Security Stompers.

"I guess I have kind of a missionary zeal about clogging, but I like to make people happy," he said. "I talk with my feet."

Some of the talking his feet do includes dance steps such as "rubber legs," "ankle breakers" and "the drag." His signature move is leaping quickly from a flat-footed position, bringing both feet up behind him and slapping his ankles.

As a young man, Hummer was interested in show business. Instead, he attended the University of Arizona as a political science major, sharing classrooms with former Sen. Bob Dole and Secretary of the Interior Stuart Udall. Rather than enter politics, he became a contract pricer in the aerospace industry, but says he never lost his interest in show business.

CCA Showdown 2004 Countdown To Showdown!

BY THERESA MACARTHUR
FOR THE DOUBLET OE TIMES

The day started with a lot of promise – nice, sunny day... save for the cold wind. The people of Chattanooga were nervous – with a temperature of 50 degrees, and the threat of snow looming, it was going to be a rough day. For those from the north, including the teams in town from Minnesota, Michigan and Ohio, it was like a heat wave!

Fridays competition included the Amateur and Challenge Solos, as well as all Duos and Duets. The plan was to narrow the competition down to the final competitors with the final competition taking place the next evening, on the main stage.

We danced solos well into the afternoon, but the suspense was going to have to kill us. The Division Winners were crowned, and the solo competition was put on hold.

Then quickly followed the duos, as well as the duets. It was certainly an impressive thing – knowing that the very best of the very best were currently taking the stage. After much dancing, the champions were crowned. Jamie Conyers and Megan Stull were named Overall Duo, and Mike Curtis and Kelly Goodpaster took Overall Duet. But who would be the national champion? Only time would tell...

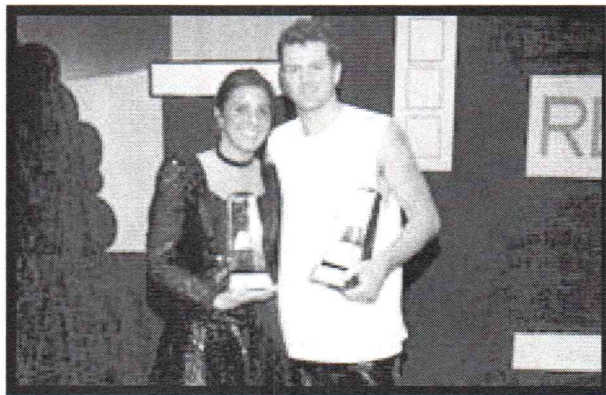

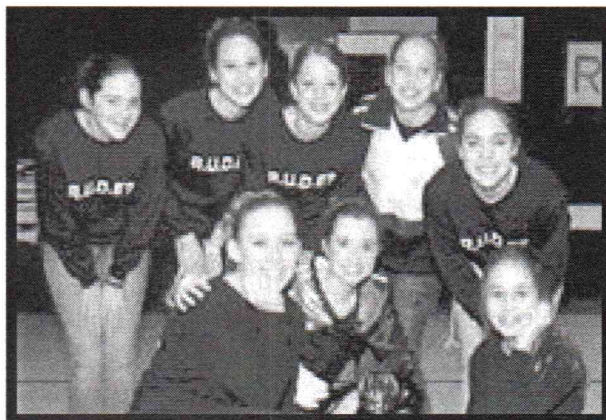

The next morning, the competition had moved to a new stage. With television monitors set up by the stage, the CCA took care to make sure that no matter where you were in the auditorium, you'd have a clear shot of the action that day! And, they used the screens for a very neat display before the event began – they advertised every qualifying event, and showed pictures of the Overall Amateur and Challenge teams, prompting many rounds of "Hey, we're on the screen!" from the groups in the audience.

All categories of competition were danced before awards were given – Amateur was danced, then Challenge. Teams came from all over the country – Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Kentucky. And, they came with their game faces on, for sure!

What makes this competition different, for those that have never attended, is the way that the dance order is determined. At most competitions, the categories are danced in the order that the teams entered the event – the first group to enter that category is the last group to dance in that same category.

At competitions during the year, the teams that place overall win "Star Points". These points are then used to determine the order that the teams dance at the Showdown – the team with the most points is the last team to dance.

CCA Showdown 2004 Countdown To Showdown!

After a long day of competing, and some of the toughest competition to see the stage in a long time, the day was over. Let the awards begin!

The theme of this years Showdown was "Countdown To Showdown", with a Broadway theme for the awards ceremony. All groups had to submit two representatives to dance in the awards ceremony, after the competition ended. It was a terrific show, with lots of great dancing talent!

Last years Amateur Champions, Hoosier Pride from Bloomington, Indiana, last years Challenge Junior Champions, Dynamic Edition from Winfield, Alabama, and the Challenge Senior Champions, The Clogging Sensation from Springfield, Missouri were all featured in this years awards ceremony. Also featured were last years All Pro Team, as well as last years Challenge Male and Female Soloists, and last years Amateur Female Soloist.

But, who was going to come out as the champions this year? With the teams danced off, the duos danced off, and even the solos tearing up the floor, the moment was now at hand!

The solos were crowned first – Kaitlin Allison, from Dynamic Edition was crowned Overall Amateur Female. Devin Fehling, from Southern Jewels, was given the Amateur Male prize.

The Overall Challenge Female went to Carissa Benton, also from Dynamic Edition. This was an especially important victory, making her the first female to win the title in back to back years since the start of the Showdown.

Overall Challenge Female went to Brandon Norris, making this his third straight year of winning the award!

The Overall Duo/Duet award was a tough contest, but the award went to Mike Curtis and Kelly Goodpaster, from Power And Precision.

Now, it'd all come down to this...with everyone on the edges of their seats with anticipation, it'd come time to crown the National Champion teams for the year.

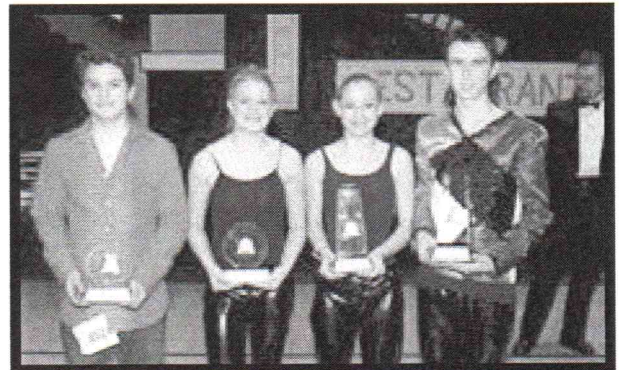

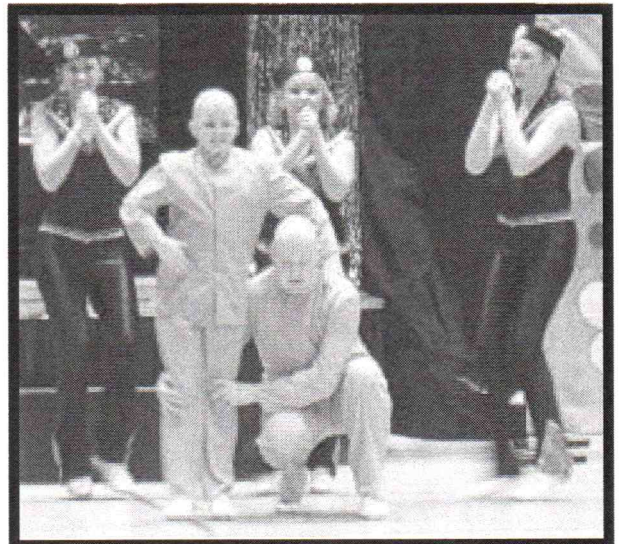

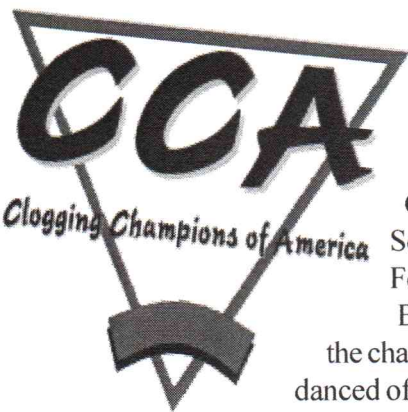

The Amateur team National Champion went to Dynamic Edition, from Winfield, Alabama. The Challenge Junior category came next, and this had everyone very excited – there was some very tough competition in this category! In the end, the trophy was going back to South Carolina, as Upstate Carolina Dance Center took home the trophy, for their "UCDC Goldmember" routine.

And, the last award of the night – the Challenge Senior Team. The Challenge Senior team crown went home with Dynamic Edition, which made this award doubly impressive – between their soloist wins, and their Amateur team win, they made it a near clean sweep of the competition, which has never been seen before!

Also, The Double Toe Times would like to congratulate the members of the 2004 All-Pro Team. Unfortunately, who will be featured in a story in the April issue of the magazine.

A very exciting time was had by all at Showdown this year! We look forward to seeing everyone on the road to the Showdown 2005!

Tony Burgess, Charleston, WV

BY LESLEY MEADOWS
CHARLESTON, WEST VIRGINIA

Tony Burgess began dancing in 1979. He received his first diploma for beginner clogging at a class at the YWCA. A year or two later people asked him to teach. He has probably taught over 4,000 people to clog since then.

His first classes were held in Frame, West Virginia with 65 students attending. He has since taught at Glenwood Elementary in Charleston, West Virginia and a little place in Nitro, West Virginia called Cin-San Auditorium (named after the owners daughters, Cindy and Sandy).

Tony began a group called the Mountain State Stompers in the early 1980's, which performed for benefits and fund-raisers, fairs and competitions around the state of West Virginia. Tony always liked clogging because it is fun, he gets to meet people and stayed physically fit. In addition to teaching clogging and running a team, Tony was also a mountain square dance caller. This is the old- style big set, a big circle or mountain square dance. Tony always tried to preserve the old time clogging while mixing it with the new clogging. The weekend clogging sessions at Cin-San created a natural gathering point for cloggers. On any given Friday or Saturday night, hundreds of cloggers and bluegrass music enthusiasts would gather at Cin-San for freestyle clogging and Appalachian style square dancing. Cin-San is also where Garland Steele would call from time to time, and Jeff Driggs cut his teeth on old-time calling at that same microphone.

It has now been 20 years since I began clogging in Charleston, West Virginia. I never really wanted to take clogging lessons. I really didn't know what it was. My mom and some of my aunts talked me into going to an elementary school downtown and taking clogging lessons from Tony Burgess. I fell in love with clogging, and was dancing on a team within 4 months or so. I joined Tony's Mountain State Stompers team. He would give lessons 2 nights a week. A beginner class followed by an intermediate class. Every Saturday night he would be down at CinSan for the bluegrass dances. Tony would not only dance but he would call circle dances. When the bands would take a break he would turn his music on and everyone who knew the line dances that he of course had taught them would jump up and dance the whole break.

Once a month, the Mountain State Stompers clogging team would have a dance to raise money for the team. The team would always perform and do funny skits. At one of these dances is where we first did the line dance "Flashdance", choreographed by Tandy Barrett.

Now remember, this is West Virginia, where clogging is very traditional. We wore black leather mini skirts with torn sweatshirts, while the only 2 men brave enough to do this — Tony and Ryan — had on leather pants and torn shirt. The crowd loved it.

Tony was always ready to listen to ideas from the team and try whatever made the team better. Tony was a great friend with Tandy Barrett of Georgia; this exposed us to a wonderful person and choreographer. The teams I direct now still dance "Tandy's Dandy" that she wrote for the Mountain State Stompers so many years ago. It stands the test of time.

Tony was also the one who introduced me to workshops on a regional and national level. He was a member of the teaching staff at the first C.L.O.G convention in Mobile, Alabama.

Sadly, Tony has since been forced by a progressive illness to stop dancing. His wife Camille has been taking care of him. She has brought him to several dances at LKM (CinSan renamed) in the past months. I have to say he can still remember how to do a circle dance and dance Rocky Top. Tony has to stop and rest but the love of the dance is still with him. I want to thank Tony Burgess for giving me the opportunity to be involved in clogging all these years. I have met so many nice people and been to many wonderful places. In the Charleston area, when Tony stopped clogging a little part of clogging died. I try to bring the excitement and commitment to clogging as he did but I have a long way to go. Thanks, Tony, for everything!

Miss Clogging in the Carolinas

BY MELISSA SAVAGE

Everyone has his or her feelings about beauty pageants. For whatever reason, you have formed your opinions. The same is true about clogging. For me, these two are a large portion of my life, a part of my life that I really enjoy. And are hopefully combined into one event.

Almost every year since age 16 I have been a contestant in the Miss American Clogger Pageant and every pageant within a 50 to 75 mile radius of my house. Also, being with the same clogging team and instructor for 18 years tells you my feelings about clogging, competition and performing. It is not always possible to find a pageant with a talent segment or more specifically a clogging pageant. But last summer while doing a search on the Internet for clogging or beauty pageants, a web page for Miss Clogging in the Carolinas was listed. I read about Gary Kirkman's clogging pageant preliminary in Mt. Airy, North Carolina.

I had to find out more about the competition and the instructor. Gary is an instructor who lives in Winston-Salem, NC. After discussing qualifications, fees and host hotel, Gary explained that this was an area he wanted to explore. He has organized clogging workshops and competitions during the past few years and wanted to have a representative at the North Carolina clogging functions by way of Miss Clogging in the Carolinas. This would start by a competition held in Mt. Airy, NC after the Gary's Beating the Back 2 School Blues workshop held August 9, 2003. The preliminaries would narrow down the contestants to ten girls/ladies of all ages that would move on to the finals. This wasn't necessary; there were only nine entrants.

In the preliminaries each dancer would be judged on their performance in rise 'n shine and then a 3 – 5 minute solo performance. 3 – 5 MINUTES!!! Mayberry RFD was getting brutal. After our performances we were given a packet that outlined the final competition, our music for our solos that could only be choreographed by each dancer, and an essay. This was a great experience, a learning experience, and one where I met a new group of cloggers. But this was just the preliminary; next it is on to the final competition.

Final competition was held in Julian NC at "The Barn Dance", an actual Grand Ole Opry type barn built inside a very large building in a rural area of Julian. The pageant was held after the Ho Ho Hoedown workshop December 13th. Seeing everyone again was fun and brought back the stress and nerves. The essays were turned in at the door where Gary's mother gave us our wristband and instructions. Time was passing quickly and soon it was time to dress for the competition. This time the competitors were down to six. We were introduced to the workshop attendees who were very supportive but Gary was our biggest fan. He made us feel special. The star treatment! Gary's favorite question throughout the day was "Are you nervous?"

In the final leg of the competition the contestants would have a 3-minute routine to the same music - techno Rocky Top. Each contestant let out a groan when the first note was played for the speed check. None of us ever wanted to hear that song again! As each dancer's number was called all the girls cheered that contestant on, after all you knew your turn was coming. Before we knew it the talent portion was over and the judges were huddled for the final decision. Who is going to travel to all the workshops and represent clogging in the Carolinas? Who would have their fees paid to Miss American Clogger? Who would wear the beautiful crown?

It was taking forever and watching their faces for clues didn't give away anything. The three judges finally made their choices and left the paperwork in Gary's hands. We were called back up to the stage, each of us had our eyes on the crown and scepter. Again Gary says "Are you nervous?" Then that nervous churning feeling in your stomach starts in anticipation of the results. And the judge's decision is: Shae Fuller-Jones, Ms. "Clogging in the Carolinas", Ashley Storey - 1st Runner-Up, Melissa Savage - 2nd Runner-Up.

Clogging Instructors and Dancers Directory

A listing in the Double Toe Times exclusive Instructors and Dancers Directory entitles you to list your events, competitions and festivals in the Upcoming Events column free of charge. The Directory is also a valuable source for networking, marketing and promotion. A bullet (■) in front of the Instructor or dancer's name indicates that this person can, and does, promote old-time clogging and traditional dancing.
