FRONT AND CENTER

God Bless Us, Every One!

Growing up in a big family can be a blast, especially during the Holidays. Like many of you, I grew up in a lower middle class family. Many of my favorite memories are from Christmas and all of the wonderful traditions that my family did to make it a magical time.

Mom pretty much overdid it at Christmas. It was not unusual to have a half dozen or so Christmas trees in our house, including a "Yum-Yum" tree to keep all the edible goodies, a traditional tree with popcorn and cranberries and all of the keepsake ornaments, a Victorian tree, a kitchen tree and even a bathroom tree decorated with band-aids, cotton balls, nail files and more. Like I said, Mom really enjoyed decorating for Christmas! One year, Mom decided to leave one Christmas tree up all year and decorate for each month and Holiday, hearts in February, Shamrocks in March, Easter and so on. As fun as it was to see the tree change, none of the other months had the same feeling as Christmas. I don't remember what month the tree came down, but when it did go back up with all of its Christmas best, we all welcomed it back like an old friend.

No matter how festive the tree was decorated, it never quite had the same magic as it did at Christmas. No matter how much glitter or decorations we added, it just never felt like it did when we all gathered around it in December. I guess we finally realized that the spirit that made Christmas different was in us. We kept looking for it in a tree with hearts, shamrocks and graduation caps.

Studios pour so much energy into their recitals or competition season, then struggled to be cohesive during the downtime. Having a goal is incredibly motivating, but the soul of the team is in the hearts and attitudes of its members. You can keep that spirit alive throughout the year by using this downtime to relax and renew yourself and to work on lesson plans, projects or group trips that involve all of your members in a positive way.

Double Toe Times readers know from past editorials that I am a Dickens fan. It wouldn't be surprising then that it is he who melted Scrooges hardened heart with the wish "I will honor Christmas in my heart, and try to keep it all the year."

The magical feeling of the Holidays would be nice to bring into everything that we do. Surrounded by friends and family, lots of great music, laughter and giving... sounds a lot like clogging doesn't it.

"It was always said of him, that he knew how to keep Christmas well, if any man alive possessed the knowledge. May that be truly said of us, and all of us! And so, as Tiny Tim observed, "God Bless Us, Every One!"

—Charles Dickens

Oh, that I would possess the knowledge to capture that feeling and stretch it throughout the year. What a great gift to give your cloggers, your family... and yourself.

Happy Holidays to all of you!

Jeff Driggs, Editor

A.C.H.F. Dance Off

by Lou Maiuri, WV

America's Clogging Hall of Fame held its annual Dance-off at the world famous Stompin' Grounds in Maggie Valley, North Carolina on October 22-24, 2004. Hundreds of clogging's best teams and dancers showed up to vie for top honors in a variety of traditional and contemporary categories. In addition to competitions, the weekend provides the organization a chance to honor a clogger for their achievements in promotion of the dance by induction into the Hall of Fame. This year's Inductee was Nancy Aycock of North Carolina. The Aycock family are tireless advocates of clogging. The All-America team is also named, with 24 members chosen from nominees from across the country. This year's inductees included the teams most seasoned inductee, Joyce Kinser. Scholarships were also awarded to three deserving students who are entering college.

America's Clogging Hall of Fame was founded in 1981 by Dan and Sandy Angel for the sole purpose of honoring our past leaders and providing a place for dancers from all walks of life to come together and dance. ACHF is dedicated to the preservation of the old time square dance and clogging.

The organization sponsors festivals at Maggie in October and in April, and sanctions competition events around the country. For more info, visit the ACHF website at www.achf.net.

25 Years Of History With The Carroll County Cloggers of Maryland

Editors Note: The Carroll County Cloggers of Maryland celebrated 25 years as a group with a gathering of friends and area cloggers on November 14, 2004. I was honored to be invited to attend that day and be a part of an afternoon and evening of great bluegrass, clogging, food and fun. It was appropriate that the event fell on leader Mark Wilson's birthday. I asked Mark to reflect on 25 years of clogging and on the history of the Carroll County Cloggers. I wish them many more anniversaries.

By Mark Wilson

Twenty-five years ago there were no digital watches. Twenty-five years ago there were very few clogging workshops and no one had a clue what a video camera was. And 25 years ago the Carroll County Cloggers of Westminster, MD were just getting their start.

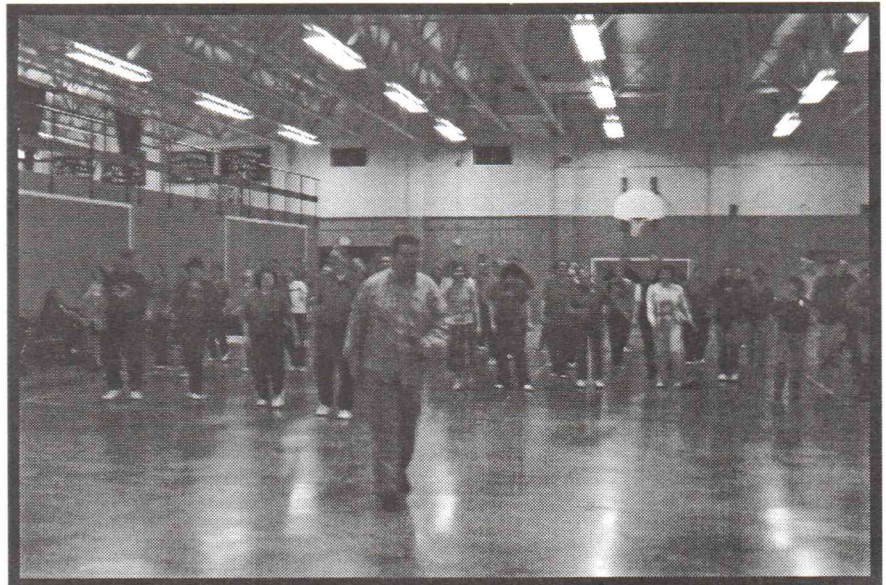

The Carroll County Cloggers started informally with a group of square dancers meeting in a member's basement in 1978. Terry Goodling, a square dance caller and round dance cuer from Hanover, was one of those dancers.

In October of 1979 the Carroll County

25 Years with Carroll County Cloggers of MD

Cloggers were officially formed when Terry started a clogging class at Westminster High School on Sunday afternoons. The group learned as they went with Terry staying one step ahead of the class, so to speak.

Use of the school was made possible by a newly created program in Carroll County that established area recreation councils that gave community groups access to the schools. Now 25 years later the Carroll County Cloggers still belong to the Westminster Area Rec Council and still practice at the same location and time.

Demands on Terry's time kept growing, so in 1986 Terry turned over the reins to Brad Durrant, a talented, energetic electronics engineer from Reisterstown, MD.

The club kept growing and by the late 80's numbered 70+ members.

In the mid to late 80's clogging workshops started popping up around the country. Two of the early workshops that the Carroll County Cloggers organized bus trips to were Fontana Village and Spring Fling in Pigeon Forge, TN.

In 1991 Brad stepped down and Rick Duval, one of the dancers in the club, took over. The club took a turn for the worse and three years later, in 1994, the club reorganized with elected officers and a board of directors. Rick and a few supporters split to become the short-lived Renegade Cloggers.

By 1994 video cameras had proven to be an indispensable tool for learning new routines and the Carroll County Cloggers started putting each new routine on video. Since 1994 the club has put 68 video teaches on tape. This has been particularly helpful to new dancers who can get the video teaches to learn routines that were taught in the past.

The club's first workshop, christened the Mason Dixon Spring Stomp, was held in March of 1997. In 2005 this one day workshop will expand to two halls and will feature Steve Smith.

Five other clogging groups can trace their roots back to the Carroll County Cloggers and three of those clubs are still active: Country Bear Cloggers, Keystone Kloggers and Silver Eagle Cloggers.

Now 25 years later, everyone has a digital watch, there are more workshops than one could possibly attend and the walls of those workshops are lined with dancers with video cameras in hand. But there's one thing that hasn't changed. The Carroll County Cloggers are still clogging away every Sunday afternoon at Westminster High School.

Coffee and Clogging

by Cristi Pfaff

Coffee and clogging are a lot alike...both give a person energy! I love both of them enough to do them daily. Either alone or even better yet, with my best girlfriend, Tracy Mullaney. We often get together for coffee, but we meet more often to clog.

Our love, interest, and ability in clogging is like a mucho grande latte...we can't get enough of it. So we thought instead of drinking a cup of home-brewed coffee that we do each week in our lessons, we would venture out for "cafe-style" coffee and seek out a clogging workshop.

We started with a cafe within our region by attending the "Gopher-It" workshop in Rochester, Minnesota. We were truly "drinking it all in". We started with our first serving with Dieter Brown. WOW!! It was like tasting some mellow roast coffee in how he taught the Ricky Skaggs' song called "sawin' on the Strings". He helped us to understand the differences in the names of steps we knew, but we had to know the similarities of the footwork. Our single was his basic, his double step was our shuffle. What a challenge to recognize, know, and remember. It was almost like relearning that a "tall skinny" was a large coffee with skim milk in it. Both the same drinks, just called something different.

Dieter made a mellow cup of coffee as he taught. He was great at teaching the parts and putting it together as a whole. From start to finish, he taught to a level of mastery so that the final product of his dance was easy and enjoyable to swallow. We were just warming up and needed a refill. This next "cup" was served up by Kellee Henzel. She taught a dance to a song called "Stacy's Mom". Now, we were awakening our senses with lots of new, pleasing, yet challenging steps. This dance was more than a latte, it had flavor shots with a few new step we've never heard of or done. Kellee was a great teacher watching to make sure we didn't "boil over" or "over perk". Kellee served up yet another "cup" of coffee when she taught "Here for the Party". I thought we could remember these dances well, between Tracy and me, but as it worked out we had to rely on the cue sheets to recall that great tasting cup both Kellee and Dieter served up. WHOA!! Was that hard to swallow! These cue sheets look more like knitting patterns than a clogging routine.

Both Tracy and I decided to video tape the masterful teaching next time. We don't remember all the "steps" to make that good cup of coffee Kellee taught or part of the steps in Dieter's dance, but we are getting together probably with coffee to try to work these dances out. We have a lot of bluegrass CD's from my bluegrass banjo playing hubby. So now we have WORK to do.

Later in the day, after refueling with lunch and regaining strength, we started our clogging again with Dieter teaching "Crazy in Love", "Connemara" and "Used to Be". We thought we could take it all in and were we wrong!! Kellee stumped us with too many new steps and our heads were overfilled to the "brim" with new ideas, steps, sequences and dances that we just couldn't stand when saying goodbye to a friend. We had to sit! I just couldn't believe it...I'm training for a marathon and I just couldn't keep up the energy needed to stay "fresh".

Both Tracy and I were filled to the brim with new steps, dances, giggles and friends that we made in Kellee and Dieter along with some new dancing friends. WOW!! What a week-end!

Like I said, "A day without coffee or clogging is an empty day. We are going to keep "drinking" and dancing!

Choreographer's Corner

This month's Choreography Corner Dawn Kropff of Chattanooga, Tennessee. Dawn is no stranger to choreography. As co-director of the Red Devil Cloggers on Ohio, she was a choreographer of the well-known routine "Locomotion" that moves like a train and motions people to "Come on, Come on!" A listing in the Double Toe Times exclusive Instructors and Dancers Directory entitles you to list your events, competitions and festivals in the Upcoming Events column free of charge. The Directory is also a valuable source for networking, marketing and promotion. A bullet (■) in front of the Instructor or dancer's name indicates that this person can, and does, promote old-time clogging and traditional dancing.
