Remembering Beloved Clogger Bill Harkleroad

Clogging instructor, dancer and director William E. (Bill) Harkleroad, of Batavia, Ohio, died at his residence in Batavia, Ohio Saturday July 9, 2011 at the age of 68. Bill founded Harkie's Hoedowners and enjoyed teaching, judging and competing in clogging events all over the country. Bill is survived by his wife Pat, three children, nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Bill was beloved among his friends, dancers and peers and was such a positive force to all who knew him. He will be missed.

90 and Still Clogging

Hello my friends at Double Toe Times,

Thanks, thanks, thanks for a good Double Toe Times clogging magazine!

I am only 90 years old and still clogging!

Vemmee T. Taylor

Las Vegas, Nevada

Editors Note:

Hello Vemmee! I am so happy to hear you are doing well and still clogging. So many times I have looked out onto a workshop dance floor and seen your smiling face, and seen the ripple effect it has on those around you.

You are an inspiration to so many and I am proud to be a fellow clogger and to call you a friend!

Jeff Driggs, Editor

HIGH Jumping Cloggers

Dear Double Toe Times,

I came across this picture recently and just had to share it. It would have been perfect for your earlier photo contest but I thought I should still send it to you because it's so great!

The Hi Horse Cloggers were performing at the annual Strawberry Festival put on by a local church every June in Stanardsville, Virginia!

I hope you can use it somehow. Thank you for such a great magazine!

Ms. Kathy Ward

*Clogging with the feet is one thing, but clogging with the heart is another*

Fresher Ink

If the Lord is willing, and the creek didn't rise, this issue of the Double Toe Times should be in the mail in the same month that is on the cover. What a concept!

It's been a long time coming. Printing and mailing issues have plagued us, and there have been times when it was just difficult to catch up. I accept the responsibility for the lapses, and we have lost readers because of it.

I am happy to announce that the Double Toe Times has leased its own printing equipment.

The magazine you are reading was printed in our office.

I appreciate the patience and encouragement of our loyal readers and hope we can continue to bring you good news from the world of clogging!

Happy clogging! Jeff Driggs

Gaffney, SC Cloggers Appear on America's Got Talent

Video Audition Earns Group Spot in Top Twelve YouTube Talent Contest

TNC Elite, a Gaffney, South Carolina dance studio based clogging team, was one of 12 teams selected to perform on the NBC talent show America's Got Talent.

The team's mixture of traditional clogging and modern music did not earn it enough votes from the public after their performance to obtain one of four slots in the NBC show's semifinals. While not advancing to the program's semi-finals, the group provided an entertaining and professional beginning to an evening of varied acts, once again proving the appeal and power of modern day clogging. The group's audition was chosen from among thousands of submitted YouTube video entries. The team was first selected in the top 20 in a YouTube contest, and then the show's producers selected the final 12 that performed on the show in Los Angeles.

Of all dance forms having appeared on the national talent competition, clog dancing groups have appeared on many seasons, and have advanced to the finals on several occasions, most notably the all-male group ALL THAT who were runners up to 11 year old singer Bianca Ryan in the finals of season one in 2006, and Morgan, Utah sister act "The Fab Five," who danced their way into the finals in 2009.

TNC Elite took the stage wearing brightly colored red, white and blue costumes. They clogged to "I Gotta Feeling" by the Black Eyed Peas in a routine that included percussive footwork in a variety of formations and lines, couple work and an a cappella segment.

The judges had a few discouraging words for many of the acts appearing on the YouTube contest show, including members of the TNC Elite Young Adult Clogging Team, but the group remained upbeat and expressed their gratitude for the opportunity to represent clogging.

TNC Elite Cloggers on AGT

Osbourne, said that she did not think that clogging is going to be the latest dance craze across America, but she complimented the group saying “You’re very good at what you do. You’re very professional and it’s great to see that. You perform really, really well together. It’s a good strong team.”

Howie Mandel appeared to be the most critical of the three hosts, at one point receiving audible sighs from members of the studio audience. “I think that you’re probably really good cloggers,” Mandel said. “But just to be a really good clogger is not enough here. You’ve gotta do something spectacular and that just seemed like a tap dance recital.”

Audience members expressed disagreement with Mandel’s statements and then he pointed backward to the crowd. “These people don’t know clogging like I know clogging.”

Cloggers took to facebook and the internet to express their frustration that clogging continues to be confused with tap and compared to other dance forms, and to praise TNC Elite for their energetic performance and great attitudes and stage presence.

Ginger Baker of Bristol, Tenn. is Misty Harrison’s mother. She watched TNC Elite’s performance on AGT and was excited for her daughter. “They’ve had a blast. They said they’ve been treated so nicely and it’s been such a great experience,” Baker said. “I was so excited.”

“It’s hard to judge when you don’t know anything about clogging,” Baker said, referring to the AGT judges’ comments. “That was a little disappointing.”

Also watching was retired Southern Dance Company founder Claudia Fowler.

Upon her passing the reins of the dance studio she for years had called home, Fowler knew she was leaving the Gaffney business in good hands.

What Fowler didn’t know was Southern Dance Company owners Misty and Chip Harrison would take the studio from being purely local to a major player on the national level.

“I knew when I retired three years ago that I left the dance studio in capable hands; I’m so happy with what they are doing at the studio,” Fowler said. “I am so thrilled that they continue to work so hard and feel great that I played a role in its success.”

Under the direction of the husband/wife duo, eight dancers from four states came together to rehearse for the many clogging competitions taking place over the course of the year.

The opportunity to audition for the talent show came from one of the teams dancers. “We got onto the show when Autumn, our youngest member, saw the ad requesting videos in the America’s Got Talent “YouTube Contest and she -- along with team member Lanie Hudson -- submitted the video about an hour before the deadline,” said team co-director Chip Harrison. “We never thought that out of the thousands of videos we would be chosen.”

According to Harrison, the group was invited to Los Angeles to dance for the show’s producers. Acts were being cut even before the final acts were chosen for the airing. “We loved the experience of working with choreographer Brian Fredman and meeting all of the other talented acts,” Harrison said.

Harrison said the group was overwhelmed by the support and encouragement they received from the clogging community and their friends and families and wished to thank everyone who voted and who sent good wishes.

“Being on Americas Got Talent was an amazing experience,” said TNC Elite member Autumn Shields. “Even though we didn’t move on, we all had so much fun working with everyone and just being together as a team.” “This will be something we never forget, and we hope we represented the clogging world in a way that made everyone proud,” Shields said.

A Fan of Fontana

By: Barbara Elko

It's that time of year again when hundreds of cloggers and fans of good ole time dancing, music and fellowship gather in the Smoky Mountains at Fontana Village Resort for the annual Fontana Clogging Jamboree.

Looking back on our experience at past events, it is an event you won't want to miss! On the eve of the workshop several of us cloggers participated in a ghost tour offered by the resort staff. The past history of the dwellings, and the people who lived and worked in Fontana Village, as well as the strange occurrences since that time were discussed. I have never believed in ghostly hauntings but .... there is something spellbinding about the Fontana Jamboree.

The Jamboree, which is celebrating it's 9th year, continues a grand tradition of clogging and square dancing at this famous resort. Fontana Village has a rich history in square dancing and clogging. Steps like the "Rockin' Chair" were invented at this very place.

Clogging and square dance have been taught at the village since the 1950's and several workshops have called the resort home throughout the years.

Once you step on the floating hardwood floor in the immense recreation center something takes control. Is it a phantom connection with past dancers, or the paramount of attending instructors, who possess your feet? Either way it was a foot stomping good time! Throughout the weekend, life atop the Smoky Mountains resort included clogging, listening to a live bluegrass band, sitting around campfires, and sharing time with other dancers. The Grass Stains Bluegrass Band from West Virginia, and Nashville recording artists Drew and Lacey Williams did an outstanding job entertaining the crowd with their music. Scotty Bilz hustled and taught all of the dancers a routine to Sweet Summer Love, one of Drew and Lacey Williams recorded songs.

Barry Welch introduced a bit of waltz in his choreography to Galaxy Song. Anybody familiar with Chip Summey knows he is all about a great routine to a great country song. Jeff Driggs taught a golden oldie traditional routine to Doreen, and no one comes close to Swingin' like Naomi Pyle!

Exhibitions were performed by the multiple-time national champion Rhythm N Motion cloggers of Tennessee, along with the Choo Choo Cloggers and many others.

This year's event is scheduled for September 23 and 24 and will include more great workshops, live bluegrass and special classes and exhibitions by the Bailey Mountain Cloggers of Mars Hill College.

North Carolina Dancers Use Summer Months to Prepare for Competition Season

For the past month, students at the Karen Gibson School of Dance in Laurinburg, North Carolina filled the school's downtown studio, hitting the stage for their annual summer dance camp to prepare for their upcoming competitions this fall.

The three week camp, led by instructor Jessica Williams, offered a chance for dancers to work on their new routines for this year, while also allowing members of the renowned Triple Toe Clogging team an opportunity to practice together for the first time this summer.

Williams said that the almost full month of practice has been a whirlwind of high-flying steps and shuffles, and that the team looks ready to take on all challenges this year.

"The first week we worked on individual routines and the second week we worked on our line dances and offered combined classes with our Freshman and Junior groups," Williams said. "This week we worked on our hoedown routine to take to the State Fair in a couple of weeks."

The final week of camp hosted over 30 dancers, ranging from 8-18-year-olds, and Williams said the group spent endless hours in the studio perfecting their steps.

"Getting ready for this fall, there's some hollering, there's some duct tape and there's a lot of work in the studio," Williams said. "We practice a ton. We've worked on our routine four, five days a week over the last three weeks. At the end of camp, we held an exhibition for the parents so that they could see what their kids have been working on for the last three weeks."

The clogging team has four different levels and begins offering training to students as young as 6-years-old.

The four teams, consisting of the Pee Wee Team, the Freshman Team, the Junior Team and the Senior Team, show off both team and combined dances, coming together in a 32-member hoedown that displays both technical skill and teamwork in one of the most difficult forms of dance.

"Hoedown is my favorite dance by far," Williams said. "It consists of Freshman, Junior, Senior and some Pee Wee Team members all working in unison. We do a bunch of different figures all directed by our caller. The girls have to hold the figures until the caller signals to change to a new one. It's a lot of fun because it gets the crowd going and it has all of our girls in it. It really shows off the hard work they've put in as a team."

Shuffling Phenoms

With competitions beginning soon, the Triple Toe Cloggers are eager to step on the big stage.

“For the past three weeks, we have been working on our individual dances, which consist of a line dance and a novelty dance,” TTC caller Ali Morgan said. “This week we have been doing our Triple Toe hoedown and our finale dance. The best part about dancing, other than winning our competition at the State Fair, is the relationships that you build at dance. We’re a family here.”

Erin Paul, the team’s co-caller, said that being able to work with some of the younger dancers at camp has been an exciting experience for both groups.

“My favorite part about being one of the older dancers is that I have the chance to be a role model for our younger dancers,” Paul said. “They can come to us when they have a question or whenever they need help with steps they don’t understand. We’re here to help them.”

With their biggest competition of the season just weeks away at the North Carolina State Fair, Williams and her clogging team will hope to shine once again, stepping their way to victory in front of thousands at the annual folk competition in Raleigh.

“We’re ready to get out and compete,” Senior Team member Destinee Watts said. “It’s a big adrenaline rush when you’re on stage performing and we want to take on that challenge.”

The Triple Toe Clogging team will start their fall schedule this year at Scotland County’s annual Relay For Life event on Sept. 23.

Excerpted from Laurinburg Exchange, Laurinburg, NC

Members of the Karen Gibson School of Dance finished up their three week summer camp last week, with a special performance for family members displaying dances and routines learned over the last month.

Aspiring stars battle it out at Hernando Pasco Has Talent

By Michele Miller, Times Staff Writer

Brittney Mowrey of Pasco, Washington, first caught the itch when she was 3 years old and found herself falling in love with a pair of “noisy dance shoes” that belonged to someone else. The tot was already taking ballet and tap, but the art of clogging, the percussive dance form —was an unfamiliar step. The $70 shoes were a little pricey, but her mom relented, after first getting a promise from Brittney to “stick with it.”

She did, and the east Pasco dancer even went on to compete nationally. Now with 17 years of clogging experience under her belt, Brittney showed off those skills with 14 other finalists at this year’s Hernando Pasco Has Talent.

In the local talent show’s second year, nearly 50 contestants from Pasco and Hernando counties auditioned over three nights before a panel of 10 judges, all for a chance at a trophy and a $500 cash prize.

In 2002, more than 1,000 cloggers took to the streets of our nation's capital in the National Independence Day Parade. The group performed at the Lincoln Memorial, toured D.C. and laid a wreath at the Pentagon in honor of those fallen on 9/11. Now, ten years later, we are going back!

America's National Independence Day Parade

America's National Independence Day Parade takes place annually on July 4th at 11:45 am in Washington, D.C., on Constitution Avenue from 7th to 17th Street before a street audience of hundreds of thousands of spectators. The Parade consists of invited bands, fire and drum corps, floats, military and specialty units, giant balloons, equestrian, drill teams, VIP's, national dignitaries, and celebrity participants. We are proud to again welcome hundreds of cloggers and dancers in 2012! The Parade is a major national event which seeks to draw the attention of Americans to the real meaning for the holiday. It is a patriotic, flag-waving, red white and blue celebration of America's birthday!

The Parade is co-hosted by the National Park Service and produced by Diversified Events, which is under contract to the National Park Service. The clogging and dance expo is under the direction of Lee Froehle and Jeff Driggs, who have a long history of providing exciting opportunities for dance groups to perform, tour and travel, including the 2002 Clogging Expo and parade in Washington, D.C., the Hawaii Clogging Expo, dance cruises, the Florida Citrus Bowl halftime show and expo, and many more.

The Nation's Capital offers unlimited excitement on July 4th in addition to the parade. A National Folklife Festival on the Mall features different cultures in the Americas and a variety of ethnic groups. # Cloggers Double-Step into Senior Talent Show

by Ginny Bartes

The city of Chandler, Arizona sponsors an annual talent show that offers senior the opportunity to display their many and varied talents. This past year, our clogging group, Incognito, auditioned and earned a place in the show. Incognito was one of an all-time high 82 performers from throughout the Phoenix Valley who took part in the show's 18th year. This year was the group's first appearance in the show.

The performers ranged in age from 55 to 85 and sang, danced, played instruments or told jokes to about 300 or so spectators for each show. There were four shows total, and the group clogged in all four shows.

It was a terrific experience for the cloggers and a venue where they could show the audiences what great fun and good exercise clogging is. The theme of this year's show was "Spice of Life" and Incognito showed the audiences that clogging is truly a dance for all ages and will add spice to anyone's life. The average age of the group was an amazing 68 years young, proving that no one is too old to learn to clog!

Group members who participated were: Ginny Bartes (Mesa, AZ), Marie Campbell (Apache Junction, AZ), Shelly Duff (Vancouver, BC), Barb Finney (Gold Canyon, AZ), Pam Goldsmith (Gilbert, AZ), Bev Keeper (Vancouver, BC), Anne Mills (Bremerton, WA), and Linda Snider (Sun Lakes, AZ). The group performed to a gospel tune "I Am the Man" by The Chosen Few and a circle dance to Ralph's clogcue record, Ragtime Annie.

"We learned our routine for a clogging competition in Scottsdale last year and thought since we already knew it, we might as well perform it again," said Pam Goldsmith. "I'd come to this show before and I knew how good it was, so we decided to audition." The group will be busy this year learning another dance(s) to perform at workshop exhibitions and the Chandler Senior Talent Show next year. The group's dance to Ragtime Annie appeared in the June issue of the Double Toe Times.*

San Juan, Puerto Rico

Historic San Juan, once nothing more than cobblestone streets and the distinctive architecture of the Spanish who founded it, is now a modern world capital.

Among the peaceful shaded courtyards and commanding colonial fortresses of El Morro and San Cristobal, you'll find a cosmopolitan city of wide boulevards, lively cafes, highly regarded galleries and designer boutiques. This is where the old world meets the new - and you can enjoy them both.

St. Thomas, USVI

Only 32 square miles in size, pirates once roamed the alleys of this beautiful place, which now host a treasure trove of stores. But there's more to this shopper's Shangri-la than an international grab bag of perfume and electronics. This U.S. Virgin Island also claims one of the world's most beautiful beaches, heart-shaped Magens Bay; a world-renowned golf course; and spectacular nightlife. You can don a snorkel to explore coral reefs bright as a wildflower meadow, or take in the amazing views on a soaring aerial tram ride to Paradise Point.

Barbados

High tea and cricket in the afternoons remains a tradition on the very British island of Barbados, also called the "Little England" of the Caribbean. The Bajan landscape, with its breathtaking panoramas of oceans and valleys, and endless pink- and white-sand beaches, is one of the most majestic in the Southern Caribbean. Barbados is the perfect setting for snorkeling in turquoise waters, touring historic sites or taking in a round of golf.

St. Lucia, West Indies

Lush green hills, black sand beaches, tranquil blue lagoons and pink melting sunsets. This rainbow of colors can only be found on the unspoiled tropical retreat that is St. Lucia. Visitors are always awed by the array of hues offered by nature. Of course, there's equal grandeur in its magnificent coastline and famous twin mountains known as the Pitons

St Kitts, West Indies

The tropical paradise of St. Kitts features the perfect blend of sun, fun and forests. The sunny weather, warm water and beautiful beaches make this island a popular attraction for boating and diving. While the lush vegetation and meticulously maintained ecosystem makes it the perfect spot for nature lovers. And, the intimate inns, wonderful shopping and colonial architecture appeal to all who visit this unique Caribbean port.

St. Maarten, NA

Where else can you experience the food, style and hospitality of two separate countries in an exotic West Indian setting? St. Maarten is divided between French St. Martin in the north and Dutch St. Maarten in the south. Both sides of this 37-square-mile island offer beautiful ocean vistas, gourmet cuisines, first-rate water sports and beaches, and some of the best duty-free shopping in the world.

Flatfoot Dancing

by Mack Samples

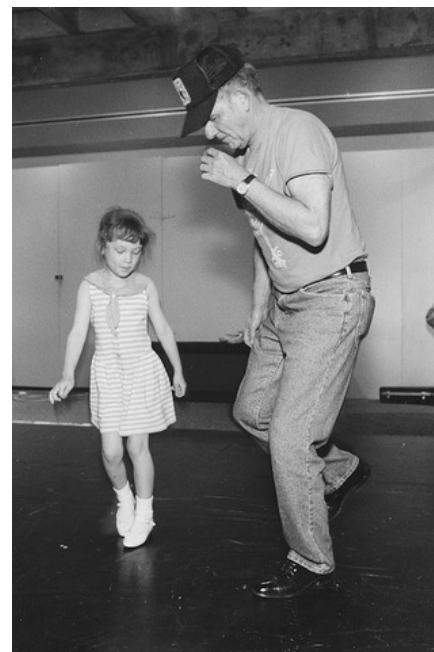

Flatfoot dancing is hard to define. "The music just goes in your ear, down through your soul, and comes out through your feet," an elderly West Virginia flatfoot dancer of note once said. So perhaps we can say that flatfoot dancing is the mountain artistic reaction to hard-driving fiddle music.

The term is often used interchangeably with clogging, but it should not be. Clogging is more structured and has certain universally accepted steps. Cloggers often raise their feet high off the floor, some kicking higher than their head. They often keep a steady shuffle with one foot, freeing the other foot and leg to do some fancy moving. And clogging is often done in teams. Flatfoot dancers, on the other hand, dance solo and tend to keep both feet close to the floor.

The steps are not quite so fancy, and there are no standard steps. Among the old-time flatfoot dancers, the movement was often backward. Hence, many of them referred to it as "backstep dancing." Two of West Virginia's better known traditional musicians, Phoebe Parsons and her brother, Noah Cottrell, always referred to it as "backstepping."

Close observation of a good West Virginia flatfoot dancer will reveal a combination of several different kinds of dancing. There is a little of the Irish stepdance in it, sometimes a little polka shuffle can be observed, and perhaps a step or two has been borrowed from what Southern blacks called tap dancing. But the best part of it all is that every flatfoot dancer tends to do it a little different. It is the expression of how that particular dancer feels about the music that he or she is hearing. Good flatfoot dancers feel the hard drive of a fiddle deep in their spine. They put their soul on display and proudly demonstrate with the movement of their feet all of the good things about living in West Virginia.

A Gift for You for Your Students

The Double Toe Times is proud to help you recognize the hard work of your clogging students by giving you a series of classes by giving you a supply of "clogging diplomas" to hand out at your graduation night. The diplomas are on glossy paper stock with a colorful diploma design that features a clog dancer, a place for you to sign. Just drop us an email or letter, fax or letter to let us know how many diplomas you will need. Please make sure you allow at least 2 weeks to make sure we can get the diplomas to you through U.S. regular mail. Canadian and foreign readers allow 4 weeks. These diplomas are not made available for resale to vendors, and are intended for use by clogging teachers to provide to students only.

You must be a subscriber to the Double Toe Times to be eligible. To order for your classes, write or email us:
